TULPI THE BARBER / DBDAAL · PBA

Five pillars. Three levels.

A proposed learning pathway from De Barbero Dotado a Artista Leyenda, adapted for discussion with PBA.

Discussion concept · v2.2 · Not approved by PBA

Who: Students · Licensed professionals · Salon / spa / barbershop owners.

Five areas of contribution, not five completed courses. PBA helps select the first audience, need and format; the same pillars can progress across three proposed levels.

01	Identity & Professional Direction	Clarify one professional priority. Possible output: a direction card with an audience, a need and one action.
02	Brand, Presence & Client Communication	Recognize one brand inconsistency. Possible output: a review checklist and a two-sentence professional message.
03	Education & Skill Development	Select one concrete learning gap. Possible output: a learning objective and first exercise.
04	Practical AI & Modern Workflows	Prepare and verify a safe draft. Possible output: a bounded prompt, corrected draft and review checklist.
05	Business & Money Fundamentals	Distinguish price, cost and time. Possible output: a service cost-and-time card.

Pillar 1 · Find your starting point

The first pillar may include a ten-question AI-guided intake. It would summarize stated goals and needs, explain one priority pillar and an optional supporting pillar, and suggest a first exercise. Participants could correct the summary and choose their route. This is orientation, not a diagnosis or certification; any A/B/C starting point is provisional. PBA can help shape the questions and criteria.

A · Foundations. Understand, choose and complete one small action.

B · Guided Application. Practice with feedback and adapt to a realistic case.

C · Systems & Leadership. Document, evaluate and transfer a supervised system.

Delivery and progression

Start with a concise PDF. An optional webpage, EN/ES audio and later videos demonstrated by Carlos can be scoped separately. Each unit includes context, an example, practice, feedback and observable evidence. A complete small benefit first; deeper learning later. The Chairside Client Return System remains an example, not the whole curriculum.

Advanced levels, AI intake, natural audio and videos are proposed extensions, not current PBA offerings or completed production commitments.

Decision requested

Raymon and his manager: select one audience, one pillar and the first format, and identify the review window and person responsible for contributor terms. Agree scope, review, attribution, usage, compensation/payment arrangements and maintenance before final production.

Human judgment · Privacy · Permission · Verification. No income guarantees. General business education, not personalized financial or tax advice.